About Jimmy

Jimmy Puckett is the CEO and Founder of Spinen, a security-first, holistic Managed Services Provider founded in 1997. Spinen specializes in giving clients what they need, rather than what they think they want. He has enjoyed the privilege of leading a talented group of technicians, programmers, and designers for more than two decades.

Adding value beyond the transaction for both the client and the team drives Jimmy to push for the best solution at all times. Jimmy has built a company based on extreme transparency and honesty.

When he is not talking with a client, you will find him on a tractor out on his farm, planning the next strategic move for the company or figuring out how to solve some challenge that a client is having with their business.

Speaker Profile

Most conference speakers on AI, technology strategy, and business efficiency will tell your audience what they already suspect. Jimmy Puckett tells them what everyone else has been afraid to say.

As the founder of Spinen, one of the most efficient managed IT operations in the country, Jimmy has spent 30 years at the intersection of technology and business. His talks on AI and automation, technology strategy, efficiency, security, and compliance don't just inform. They reframe. Audiences leave with a different way of looking at problems they thought they understood.

Jimmy doesn't speak in buzzwords and he doesn't traffic in hype. His perspectives are counterintuitive by design, because the conventional wisdom is usually where good ideas go to die. Put him on a stage, and the energy is contagious.

If your audience is ready to be challenged and not just informed, Jimmy Puckett is the right speaker for the room.
